
Introduction

Welcome to the TRAIL! If you have ever felt like there is a gap between your studies and the real world, transdisciplinary education is here to bridge that gap. By walking the TRAIL, you will better understand transdisciplinary education and gain tips and tricks for collaborating with teachers, fellow students, researchers, and external partners.

This TRAIL sets you on the path to tackling significant societal issues and working with people from entirely different backgrounds.

Theory

At the moment, this page does not contain content yet.

Practice

At the moment, this page does not contain content yet.