

Your Expedition Begins!

Hey there, awesome that you've taken the first leap into this exciting expedition. Welcome to the TRAIL! Whether you're diving into a transdisciplinary minor or just curious about what it entails, you're in for a thrilling ride. Get ready for a hands-on learning experience that values equality and takes your ideas seriously. If you've ever felt a gap between your studies and the real world, transdisciplinary education is here to bridge that and make your education impactful.

As you step into the TRAIL, whether you're a transdisciplinary pro or totally new, get ready for a journey filled with enriching experiences. The TRAIL is here to guide you through, no matter your background. Dive in it to get inspired to tackle real-world problems and discover how you can make a difference.

Starting off in the first leg of the TRAIL Expedition, you'll navigate through a forest of insights about Transdisciplinary Learning, preparing yourself to meet your expedition team at the base camp.